

International Employee Assistance Programmes

Organisations are increasingly offering equivalent benefits to their employees wherever they are based. Staff who are either sent overseas on short assignments or who are taking up contracts away from home for a few years are entitled to the support they enjoy when based at home, increasingly companies are keen to include specialist EAP support for 'trailing spouses' and families of employees abroad as well.

CiC's International EAPs ensure worldwide employee and family assistance 24/7/365. Our international employee services provide specialist telephone and clinical support, with interventions provided in most languages, ensuring that local staff have access to high quality professional help as well.
